

March 20, 2019

TLSS Partners Co-Author CLM Magazine Article on Insuring Medical Devices Against Cyberattacks

Related Attorneys: Brian C. Bassett

TLSS partners Cheryl Vollweiler and Brian Bassett have teamed up with Scott Swift from AXIS Insurance to author the lead cover story for the March 2019 issue of CLM Magazine.

The article, titled "Is Any Body Safe?" takes a hard look at the coverage issues related to insuring medical devices, such as insulin pumps and pacemakers, against cyberattacks. In the new age of the Internet of Things (IoT), where medical devices are increasingly connected to the internet, the threat of hackers endangering the personal safety of patients is very real.

Cheryl is based out of TLSS' New York office, while Brian is based out of TLSS' Chicago location. The two frequently handle matters involving coverage and cyber-risk, and co-authored the article with Mr. Swift, cyber claims manager at AXIS Insurance Company,

Read the full article, "Is Any Body Safe?" in the March 2019 issue of CLM Magazine by clicking here.

CLM Magazine March 2019